To Whom It May Concern,

I have been working with FunctionEight since the latter part of 2009. They have, and still are, involved in a range of support roles for The Wealth Club, including regular desktop support, server infrastructure planning and implementation and support, assisting in office moves and web site construction and maintenance, I have found them to be professional in all aspects of their work and have performed their duties to the highest quality, within workable time frames, and to pre arranged budgets.

I would, in relation to my personal experience with their services, say that they have a great knowledge base within their team and help at a real one to one level to tailor solutions to the requirements. I have very much appreciated that they have adapted as projects have progressed and our business grown and changed over the past year. They always get the job done but more importantly, provide the right solution to our needs.

I have no reservations or hesitation in recommending them to other businesses for their services.

Regards,

Tim Proudlock
